

25th Anniversary THEOLOGICAL HORIZONS

THEOLOGICAL HORIZONS supports both Christians and seekers in academia by advancing theological scholarship and by providing a welcoming home for engaging faith, thought, and life.

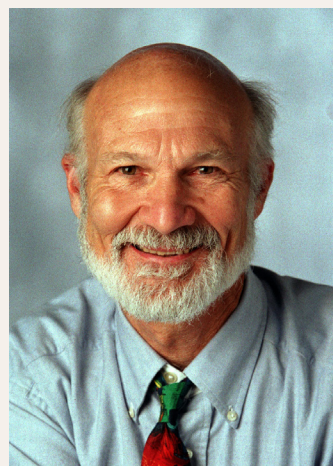

BONHOEFFER HOUSE

Theological Horizons is centered just steps from the University of Virginia at the Bonhoeffer House. The Bonhoeffer House, home to the Marsh family, is a gathering place for students, professors, community members and church leaders who come together for rich conversations about integrating the practices of theology into everyday life.

It's back to school for Theological Horizons! We begin our 27th academic year with familiar favorites like our weekly Vintage lunches, Horizons Fellows, Perkins Fellows and Evening Prayer on the Lawn---and announce fresh offerings: the 2017 Capps Lecture, a new team of Horizons interns, an enhanced website and a book many years in the making. There's something for everyone in our community of care, prayer and welcome. And that includes you.

The 2017 Capps Lecture in Christian Theology

"Christianity is Madness: Kierkegaard and the University"
with Stanley Hauerwas

Thursday, October 12th at 6pm
the University of Virginia.

For nearly 50 years, Stanley Hauerwas has challenged Christians to live like Christians. Named "America's Best Theologian" by Time magazine, Hauerwas is the Gilbert T. Rowe Professor Emeritus of Divinity and Law at Duke University.

His work cuts across disciplinary lines—from ethics, theology and political theory, to medical ethics and the philosophy of social science.

Stanley Hauerwas's book, A Community of Character: Toward a Constructive Christian Social Ethic, was selected as one of the 100 most important books on religion of the 20th century. His recent works include The Work of Theology and Hannah's Child: A Theological Memoir.

The Capps Lectures in Christian Theology bring eminent Christian thinkers to the heart of the university to speak to the relationship between faith and responsibility. Join us for this public lecture on October 12—or watch our website for the archived edition. Want more info? Email info@theologicalhorizons.org.

Meet our 2017-18 Leadership Team

Vintage Intern | Summer Allen, UVa '18

Summer Allen dreams of a world where she can spend her days obsessing over ancient literature and eating bagels. As a 2nd year classics major living in close proximity to Bodo's, she is proof that some dreams do come true. You can find her running, baking, or counting down the days to the next Vintage lunch.

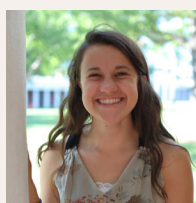

Marketing Intern | Joanie Fasulo, UVa '18

Joanie is a 4th year undergraduate studying in the Political and Social Thought program. Though she calls Maine home, she spent the past summer on Martha's Vineyard. She loves spending time with small children and dogs and there are many of both here in Charlottesville. Recently, she learned how to knit and is happy to show anyone and everyone her latest (and only) creation.

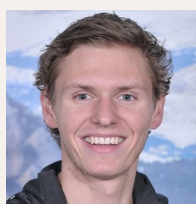

Vintage Intern | Callie Gaskins, UVa '20

Callie is a 2nd year undergraduate student at the University of Virginia, hailing from Falls Church, Virginia. She plans to study English and French. Callie first discovered Theological Horizons by attending Vintage lunches her first year. Her perfect day includes going on a long walk through the countryside (wearing Chacos), curling up with a good book, and throwing a dinner party (starring brussels sprouts and kale, of course).

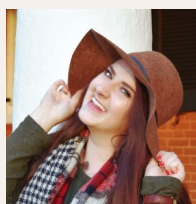

Development Intern | Megan Helbling, UVa '18

Megan is a 4th year undergraduate student studying English and Religious Studies. Megan is from Richmond, Virginia, and loves people, all things planet earth, wandering around bookstores, and persuading her friends into spontaneous adventures. She first got involved with Theological Horizons for the free food every Friday, but stuck around because of the rich theology, generous mentors, and unassuming and welcoming atmosphere found at every Theological Horizons event.

Operations Intern | Garrett Losty, University of Colorado at Boulder, Leeds School of Business '17

Garrett comes to us as a Trinity Presbyterian Marketplace Fellow in pursuit of vocational experience and theological and discipleship training. A native to Virginia, Garrett is returning from a four year adventure out in the beautiful mountains of Colorado. He is a big believer in exploring, connecting with people, talking sports of any kind and not judging people whose handwriting hasn't changed since 3rd grade. He is thrilled to be a part of Theological Horizons, and to learn from his wonderful mentors within the organization.

Vintage Intern | Sarah Ruckle, UVa '20

Sarah is a 3rd year undergraduate student majoring in Religious Studies and Youth and Social Innovation from Bristow, Virginia. Sarah loves sunrises and sunsets, hiking, visiting Cville's many coffee shops, spending time with people, and singing with her a cappella group. She got plugged into Theological Horizons after stumbling into a Vintage lunch and falling in love with the atmosphere and mission of TH. She's super duper excited to serve behind the scenes this year!!

Vintage Saints & Sinners: the book is here at last!

“In our postmodern age, it’s all the more important that Christians cultivate ancient friendships, apprenticing with broken and beautiful saints who’ve preceded us. Their lives of devotion, service, and sacrifice help us to reimagine our own. In this wise, humble, passionate book, Karen Marsh invites you to meet the ancient friends who have nourished her faith. It’s a joyful, honest journey that will make you want to join this pilgrimage for yourself.”

— James K. A. Smith, Calvin College, author of You Are What You Love

The word saint conjures up images of superstar Christians revered for their spectacular acts and otherworldly piety. In her new InterVarsity Press book, Karen Wright Marsh takes a closer look at the lives of these spiritual heavyweights and she discovers that they also experienced struggle, doubt, and heartache. In fact, in many ways they’re not all that different from you and me. Vintage Saints and Sinners: 25 Christians Who Transformed My Faith is available in hardcover on Amazon and from your other favorite online and local bookstores. Read it, give it, share it. And please help launch the book with your own reader review on Amazon.
