

THEOLOGICAL HORIZONS

OUR MISSION

Theological Horizons supports Christians and seekers in academia by providing a welcoming community for engaging faith, thought and life.

"This is what the Lord says: 'Stand at the crossroads and look. Ask for the ancient paths. Ask where the good way is and walk in it, and you will find rest for your souls.'" Jeremiah 6:16

OUR STORY

Theological Horizons is an independent, not-for-profit Christian ministry centered at the Bonhoeffer House at the heart of the University of Virginia community. Established in 1990 by Karen and Charles Marsh, Theological Horizons cultivates an inviting forum for students, scholars and community members at the intersection of faith, thought, and life. We rely on the Christian tradition to guide our conversations as we navigate the deeper questions together. Our mission moves from lecture halls into rich conversations about integrating the practices of theology into everyday experience. All are welcome. Always.

"Theological Horizons stands in the gap. We are gatekeepers, comforters, and companions to students and community members who have lost most daily interactions with peers, faculty, mentors and so many others. We are present, offering physical, emotional and spiritual grounding."

– Karen Wright Marsh, Executive Director

"Theological Horizons provides me with a religious and theological space where discussion is just different. People actually come with diverse viewpoints and from diverse places, and we learn together. I leave every gathering feeling peace and energy."

– Caroline Kirk (UVa '21)

"Theological Horizons provides a crucial space - a physical, emotional, and spiritual space - for both believers and seekers to experience true community and learn how to integrate their faith into their intellectual and social lives."

– Betsy Hutson (TH Board Member)

"The world around students tempts them to think that their private spiritual lives need to be kept out of their public academic and social lives. Theological Horizons helps them to see how those lives can, and should, come together."

– Alan Jacobs (professor, Baylor University)

Theological Horizons
1841 University Circle - Charlottesville, VA 22903
434.244.2839

www.theologicalhorizons.org

OUR PROGRAMS

Gather around the Theological Horizons hearth, engaging in one of our many dynamic programs. In light of the pandemic, all of our programming is open to the public and accessible either live or after-the-fact at www.theologicalhorizons.org.

Creating Space for Deeper Conversations...

VINTAGE LUNCHES

A weekly gathering, a home-cooked meal and conversations around the writings of Vintage Christians: those sinner-saints across the ages who've wrestled with the question, "How do I follow Christ faithfully in the world?" Together, we are growing in maturity and resilience, all by God's grace!

FAITH AND WORK FORUMS

A lunch series that explores the interplay between faith and vocation through authentic stories told by guest speakers hailing from all over: thought leaders and experts in their fields pursuing meaningful, purpose-driven work and lives well lived.

Vintage Saints and Sinners

Discover the book, Vintage Saints and Sinners: 25 Christians Who Transformed My Faith, by executive director Karen Marsh. Go deeper with our companion resources: free online sessions and the Vintage Saints and Sinners Podcast.

Advancing Theological Scholarship...

LECTURE SERIES

Eminent Christian scholars and thought leaders bring theology to life through free public lectures at the heart of the University.

SUPPORT FOR SCHOLARS

Up-and-coming theologians and students at all stages in their journey find resources, opportunities and encouragement. Conferences, courses, online engagement as well as our international graduate writing prize competition all foster reflection and witness to the church, community and academy.

COMMUNITY CONVERSATIONS

From seminars, workshops, Bible studies, and evening prayer to author readings, house concerts and film screenings, Theological Horizons creates a community presence engaged in rich theological conversation around the essence of life.

Mentoring and Discipling Students...

FELLOWS

Undergraduate Fellows think critically about all aspects of their lives, drawing insight from each other and the community around them. Guided by mentors, Fellows explore vocational discernment through relational discipleship and engagement in the community: a theologically rich vision of personal calling in the world.

INTERNS

Theological Horizons Interns take a deep dive into the non-profit sector with guided experience across all facets of our work including small ministry management, development, media and marketing training.

OPEN INVITATIONS TO DISCIPLESHIP

We provide one-on-one mentoring for students and community members who desire connection, guidance and intentional friendships.

GIVING

In the challenge of today, we have the opportunity to engage more seekers and believers in our ministry. Please join us by making a gift of any size, believing with us that God is using this time and each one of us for His perfect purpose.

ONLINE

www.theologicalhorizons.org/giving

UVA FUND

Online at www.theologicalhorizons.org/giving or by check to the "UVA Fund"
PO Box 400314, Charlottesville, VA 22904
#FAA288 Theological Horizons in the memo line

MAIL

Make your check out to "Theological Horizons"
1841 University Circle, Charlottesville, VA 22903

VENMO

@theological-horizons

STOCK/MUTUAL FUND SHARES

Transfer stock electronically to Theological Horizons, Inc., account: Broker: TD Ameritrade Account number: 491746472 DTC number: 0188

PLANNED GIVING

Let us know of your intentions by emailing us at info@theologicalhorizons.org

Theological Horizons (EIN 581594037) is a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit. All donations are tax deductible.

Stay Connected

